CA correspondent at Albany, Kentucky, mail-lettings, that explains in part the fearful in-crease in the expenses of the Federal Government us of a recent transaction in reference to the crease in the expanses of the Federal Government trade in the administration of Mr. Buchanan. The mail route from Stanford to Albany, in this State, was let to H. F. Goff, of Albany, for the sum of $1,789 per annum, which was the lowest and best bid. This letting was mentioned in the official announcement of mail-lettings in the Washington papers in the latter part of April, and was republished in the Louisville Journal and other papers in this State early in May. Mr. Goff, the contractor, Immediately commonced preparations for carrying out the contract, but subsequently to his great surprise the centract, but subsequently to his great surprise when pitted against well trained vectors contained. ract, but subsequently to his great surprise when pitted against well trained veteran soldiers." found that the route was secretly offered to be relet by the Department, and was soon afterwards ac the Department, and was soon afterwards ac-sally re-let to a Democratic partisan for the sam of ciplined, and their full strength is thus made availperen throughed dollars per annum

Mr. Goff is an American, and when this fact was made known to the Department by the Democratic member of Congress from that district, after the ranta had been given to Goff, and he had filed the recessary vouchers and securities, without notice to him the contract was arbitrarilly rescinded by the Postmaster General and advertised to be re-let, not in the ordinary manner, but in an arms of an insignificant country. However, the program of this duty to their party. However they may dislike personally the nominee of their party, or however much they may nificant country Democratic paper, which was placed in the hands of only a few faithful Demoplaced in the hands of only a few faithful Demo-cratic partians, and the contract, which Mr. Godf was willing to perform for seventeen hundred and cogity-was dollars a year, was given to one of these Democratic partians at the price of seven as a day fee one to the party. It is the raves thus here Democratic partitions at the price of seven thousand dollars a year.

Messus. Entrois: As my vericity has been called a question, I feel that justice to myself, as well a he memory of the dead, requires that I should make illustration of this in some articles written by a Mr. "D.," of Bicomited, Kenutucky, in which he has labored to disprove that J. I. Waller ever wrote, or could have written, a History of the Kentucky Baptist, and some other works. I wish the readers of the Journal to review catefully those articles, in which Mr. D. reasons thus:

First. When it was proposed to publish the life end writings of J. L. W. Her, he (Mr. "B).") had heard nothing, uo, not even a "whileper, of the missing documents," and consequently there could have been none missing. If Mr. "D." would inform himself upon this point, he could learn that this was talked of by the friends of J. L. W. from the day that search was made for his minuscripts, which was the second or third day after his death, up to the nn search was made for his in niuscripts, which was es second or third day after his death, up to the search time. And yet, because hir, "D," had no rard it, therefore there could have been no manuripts lost. This is one of Mr. "D,"s" conclusive live, that J. I.. Waller was collecting material for an least ten years before his death for writing a Billistory of the Keatucky Baptist. Before Mr. "D." could prove to a reflecting mind that J. L. W. had no suitable material for writing such a history, he would have to prove, by better men, that he (Mr. "D.") had accomparied Mr. Waller in his various tours through the Sinte during the last ten years of his life. This, I am sure, Mr. "D." could not do, as I was with Dr. Waller tepeatedly during his life, and I have no recollection of seeing Mr. "D." with him. And a portion of the time that I spent with J. L. W. was spent in collecting material for writing a History of the Kentucky Baptists. I recollect of going with him to Gillhert's Cleek Chorch, in Garrard county, Kentucky, the tirst Baptist Church Convanized in the State and there to my personal of going with him to Gilbert's Creek Church, in Garrard county, Kentucky, the tirst Baptist Church organized In the Siste, and there, to my personal knowledge, he obtained "suitable" material, as he (Waller) thought, for his history. I also assisted him in getting the history of the Seurh District Association, from its organization up to whithin a few years of his death. And yet, Mr. "D.," I suppose, would conclude, as & had no knowledge of these things, that they could not be so.

I had never dreamed, that, in order to write a history of Kentucky Bantista, the writer would have to have all of the old church books. If I missake not, Mr. Benedict wrote a history of the Baptists without all of the old church books in the land.

He requested the minutes of all the associations roun these be gathered his material and from pri site correspondence. J. L. Waller had been collecting materials for more than ten years for writing a history of Keutucky Baptists. This has been proven, and can atid be proven by as sespectable men as live.

J. L. Waller stated, time and again, that he was preparing books for the press and had them under way; that this was one object in moving to the country. And, soon after moving, that they should be published in rapid succession. And that a gread deal of his time was taken up in writing books while in published in rapid succession. Mrssus, Eurous; John. Waller said in 1852 that the materials to a history of Kentucky Haptlists opponents have yet been able to find is that his name does not appear as an attorney practising in the court of appeals. Upon this slender basis they found an argament that he has never been a lawyer found an argament that he has never been a lawyer of much switchen. They will rest, the says, "with those who have the means of secreting such a result." With found an argument that he has never been a lawyer of nuck emirence. This is truly a most lame and impotent conclusion. If the argument is worth anything, it will show that there is scarcely a law anything, it will show that there is scarcely a law to less the property of the superstance of the state. From 1885 to 1854, when the publication of briefs was begun, neither the name of Col. Goo. Affred Callwell nor that of Aaron Harding is to be found in the reports as an artorney in the court of appeals. During the same period the name of Elijah Hise is found in that connection but tackee, and the name of Mr. Wood, the Democratic candidate for the clerkship of the court of appeals, is not found there from 1813, when it is alleged that he commented the practical for such a history. Walk is—what is alleged that he commented the practical for such a history. wood, the Democratic candidate for the clerkship for the court of appeals, is not found there from 1843, when it is alleged that he commenced the practice of the law, until that publication of the 17th volume of Hen. Monroe's report, which was published about two years ago.

In presenting this objection, the opponents of Judge What have proved too nuch. They have shown that have proved too nuch. They have shown that have proved too nuch. They have shown that had the work was a received the account of the control of the contro

Wheat had been Circuit Court Judge, and, of course, his name is not mentioned as a practicing attorney. If the objection is good against Whent, at is mach atronger against Wood, who, as is alleged by his political friends, was from 1843 to 1857 a practicing attorney, but whose usine doesn't uppear as counsel to the Court of Account Appear as cou nent is entirely frivolous. The cesort to it by the Democracy is only an evidence of their utter desper-ation. They can find no valid objection to Judge Wheat. It would be more reasonable for us to pleared in the records of the Court of Appeals as : Genney: "The instort of the Kenturky pared in the records of the Court of Appeals as a corrected with the early history of the lempt to find fault with Judge Wheat because he churches and ministry are raticly passing into for-perfuluess. Their names and their histories may yet be rescued from obliviou." E der Kenney wrote: "The time has come when active measures should."

Are we to believe that a man engaged in wriving the history of the Kentucky Baptists refused the material for writing it—that he declined the pournal of a leading preacher in which some thirty or forty churches are referred to? Whose interest requires such a stretch of credulity as this? It is as evident as that John L. Inforts of Dry Goods at New York.—It spears from the Journal of Commerce that the iotal imports of Dry Goods at New York, for the fiscal year ending the 36th alt. it $25,331,352 less than for the praybus year. It would have been much greater, only for the fact that the mouth of July, 1855, which is the beginning of the fiscal year, showed a very large increase upon the corresponding month of the previous year, in consequence of the latroduction of goods under the now tariff. The Journal side:

We can safely predict that the io'al receipts for the current mouth (July) will fall far short of the entered mouth of last enormous eggregates for the same mouth end of the presence of the element of the course for the end of the en

Journal adds:

We can safely predict that the to'al receipts for the current month (July) will full far short of the enormous eggregate for the same month of last year, when the imports amounted to about twenty-one million dollars. The months of August and September will probably extitit a less relative decrease, and the latter may sheve a gain upon last year; October, November, and December will probably show a relative increase, and the remainder of the fiscal year must exhibit a large excess cumpared with the same period of last year.
